

How to New age

By charlie

This PDF / printed document will teach you how to learn New age!

speaking New Age is fun but when you make a mistake or you just forget things, you can get really frustrated and want to stop never give up and keep pushing thru this!

New age has letters like English ABC ect, but they arn't called letters, they are called symbols!

these symbols make up the writing / typing portion of New Age you can also romanise them and use that for writing and talking, but the symbols help out better in situations like this as it's easy to use and better overall when pronouncing / saying words in New Age, the way they sound when they come out wont match they way they are romanised thats normal and doesnt have an impact on anything besides being easy to say!

soon, the dictionary and pronounce sheet will be seperate, and ill have a few romanised kids new age books available!

let's first start off with basic vowl's

A E I O U

A or "AE" is said like ay as like in hey!

E or EH is said like eh or heh i is said like IE or "eye e" or hye o or is said like ohe or ohem/hom and last but not least

U or UE is said like we/ whi these basic things will help you when it comes to vowl's but its best to refer to the pronounce sheet on the next page

This is the pronounce sheet for new age. If you have any questions, ask the instructor that gave this pdf to you

The next page will show you the importance of exchanging double letters Rolling start and interdiamediary, they both sound weird right?

well both of them are a basic part of New Age interdiamediary is when a letter or pronunciation starts with a letter T or R they start with a rolling of the toung!

tren-kas for example is said like trren-kas, the tren part is started with the T having a rolling start and the kas part sounds like a bike tire deflating super duper fast! or a open hihat when beatboxing this includes any words that sound like the must use a rolling start on them when it comes to a word such as, good or hello instead of typing, hnfahelehohe, you instead write hnfa'loa'h see the diffrence with the size of the word?

thats really good as if there wasnt dubble letters then we wouldnt be able to chat or text easy the english caracters are the converting point and shall be done as follows ll ,ll/la/lar ll is the thing you want to shorten such as ll in hello!

and la or lar is the thing you want to replace it with here is the complete list of double letters
